

Press Release

Central Agency for Public Mobilization And Statistics

World Telecommunication and Information Society Day "WTISD-2016 "

4.3 % increase in the number of households own a computer in 2015

Central Agency for public Mobilization and Statistics issued on 16 /5/2016 a press release in the occasion of World Information Society Day Proclaimed to be on 17 May by a United Nations General Assembly resolution dated the 27th March, 2006 which marks the founding of the International Telecommunications Union (ITU) and signing the first International Telegraph Convention 1865 - to focus on the importance of IT and help raise awareness of the possibilities provided by using Internet and other information and communication technologies (ICT) bring to societies and economies, as well as of ways to bridge the digital divide. WTISD-2016 will focus on the theme: "ICT entrepreneurship for social impact" International Telecommunication Union seeks to launch ICT Possibilities as driving force behind innovative and scientific solutions to encourage progress in realizing (SDGs) with a focus on SMEs in developing countries.

FIGURES IN MILLIONS

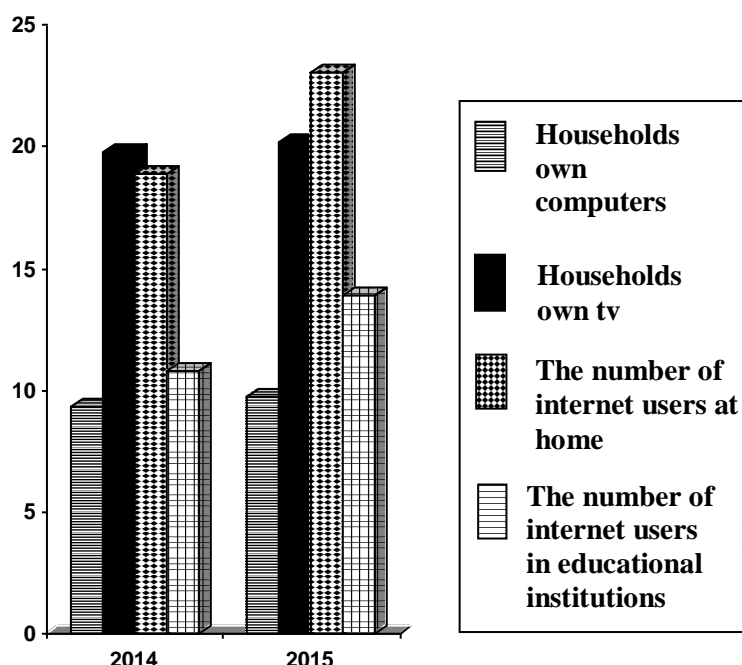

The main indicators in this framework

•The number of households own computers is 9,7 million households in 2015 compared to 9,3 million households in 2014 with increase 4,3%.

• The number of households own a television is 20, 18 million households in 2015 compared to 19,8 million households in 2014 with increase 1,9%.

• The number of households members using internet at home is 23,04 million people in 2015, compared to 18,9 million people in 2014 with increase 21,9%.

• The number of Internet users in institutions places 13,89 million people in 2015 compared to 10,8 million people in 2014 with increase of 28,61%.

• The number of households members using Internet to obtain information about goods and services is 4,66 million people in 2015 compared to 3,7 million people in 2014 with increase of 25,94%.

• The number of households members using Internet to obtain information from government agencies 3,94 million people in 2015 compared to 3 million people in 2014 with increase of 31,3%.

• The number of households members using Internet to obtain information about health and health services 8,58 million people in 2015 compared to 7,13 million people in 2014 with increase of 20,33%.

• The number of households members using Internet to sending or receiving e- mail 18,79 million people in 2015 compared to 15,4 million people in 2014 with increase of 22%.

