

42.1% of the Egyptian family expenditure on Education goes to private lessons and courses

CAPMAS issued a study on "Egyptian family expenditure on Education" from factual survey data of "Income, Expenditure & Consumption" in 2008/2009, 2010/2011.

Its most important results for year 2010/2011 are as follows:

- Annual expenditure rate on education (Families that have members following education) 4.6% of total family annual expenditure.
- Annual family expenditure on Education:
 - Average family expenditure on education reached 3706 pounds, and at urban areas the average reaches triple times than rural areas that reached to 1932 pounds.
 - Average expenditure on student reached (in all stages from pre preparatory to University) 762 pounds, and at urban areas the average reached about 4 times than rural areas that reached 348 pounds.
 - Average expenditure on private education of the student reached 4454 pounds, and it represent more than 9 times the average expenditure on governmental education of the student that reached to 480 pounds.

- Expenditure on Education:

- Annual family expenditure rate on private lessons & courses reached 42.1% of total expenditure on education, and at urban areas 47.3% compared to 39.9% at rural areas.
- Annual family expenditure rate on expenses & study fees reached 38.8% of total expenditure on education, and at urban areas 44.4% compared to 25.1% at rural areas.
- Less rate of expenditure was on transportation expenses of education and it reached 6.9%.

- Expenditure on Education stages:

- Annual family expenditure rate on education stages before elementary school (Governmental / Azhar / Private) reached 30.8% of total expenditure on education. It was at rural areas 51.1% and it was more than doubled at urban areas which reached to 23.8%.
- Annual family expenditure rate on High school education stages (Governmental / Azhar / Private) reached 24.2% of total expenditure on education. While it was at rural areas 25.7% compared to 23.6% at urban areas.
- Annual family expenditure rate on above average & higher education stages (Governmental / Azhar / Private) reached 26.5% of total expenditure on education. While it was at rural areas 29% compared to 19.2% at urban areas.

- Expenditure on Governmental & Private Education:

- Annual family expenditure on Governmental education reached 54.2% of total expenditure on education, while it was in rural areas 76.6% compared to 46.4% in urban areas.
- Annual family expenditure on Private education reached 42.2% of total expenditure on education, while it was in urban areas 51.6% and it is more than triple in rural areas that reached 15.4%.
- Annual family expenditure on Azhar education reached 3.6% of total expenditure on education, while it was in rural areas 8% and it reached 4 times than in urban areas.

- Annual family expenditure on Education:

Annual family expenditure increase on private lessons & courses of total expenses on education as in the following:

- With the increase in number of family members, the family expenses that consist of four members reached to 41.8% compared to 50.3% per family that consist of (6-7) member.
- With the householder of less education, the family expenses that headed by an illiterate or can write & read householder reached to 48% compared to 35.5% per family that holds by a university graduate and up.
- With the householder who less professional, the family expenses that headed by scientific professions householder reached to 37% compared to 57% of craftsmen and factories operating workers.

P.O. Box 2086 Salah Salem, Nasr City, Cairo, Egypt

Tel: Public Relations: (02) 24021559.. National Information Center (NIC): (02) 24020231

Fax presidential of CAPMAS: 24024099 E-mail: pres_capmas@capmas.gov.eg Website: www.capmas.gov.eg