

85 Million is the number of population inside Egypt
In 27/8/2013

CAPMAS population clock indicates that the number of population inside Egypt reach to (85 million) on Tuesday 27/8/2013 at 9:30 pm. While the number of population has reached 84 million on 1/3/2013, therefore, an increase in the number of population is one million during 6 months. The percentage of male reached to 51.1% while the percentage of female was 48.9%.

Cairo has the largest number of population all over the republic as it reached 8.9 million inhabitants in density of 47097 inhabitants per km<sup>2</sup>. On the other hand south Sinai ranked the lowest number of population all over the republic as it reached 162 thousand inhabitants in density of 9.7 inhabitants per km<sup>2</sup> according to population estimation in 1/1/2013.

Egypt witnessed a rise in the natural increase rate as it reached 2.6% in (2006-2012) compared to 1.9% in (2001-2006) , an increase of 0.7%.

The Egyptian community is considered a youth community ; as the population in the age group between (0-14 years) represents one- third , 31% of the population, while the age group between (15-19 years) reached 29 % and the age group of elder people ( from 65 years or more) reached 4.4 %

The total average of the family size reached 4.4 individuals; 4.1 individuals in urban and 4.7 individuals in countryside, while the average of family size headed by women reached 3.3 individuals during 2010/2011.