

24.6% increase of students enrolled in private universities in 2010

CAPMAS issued on Thursday 29/12/2011 annual bulletin for graduates from universities and higher institutions (Governmental – Private) in 2010, and its main important indicators are as follow:

* Total number of graduate from Universities (Governmental – Private) reached 326274 graduates in 2010 (including 149334 males with rate 45.8%, 176940 females with rate 54.2%); versus 333972 graduates in 2009 with a decrease 7698 graduate with 2.3%.

Relative distribution of graduates from Universities (Governmental – Private) in 2010

* Total graduates from Engineering Science group reached 23596 graduates with rate 7.2% of total graduates in 2010 (including 16146 males with rate 68.4%, 7450 females with rate 31.6%), versus 22480 graduates in 2009 with an increase 1116 graduate with 5%.

* Total graduates from Medical Science group reached 26342 graduates with rate 8.1% of total graduates in 2010 (including 11044 males with rate 41.9%, 15298 females with rate 58.1%), versus 29777 graduates in 2009 with a decrease 3435 graduate with 11.5%.

* Total graduates from Agriculture Science group reached 4438 graduates with rate 1.4% of total graduates in 2010 (including 2823 males with rate 63.6%, 1615 females with rate 36.4%), versus 3892 graduates in 2009 with an increase 546 graduate with 14.0%.

 Total graduates from Basics Science group reached 9256 graduates with rate 2.8% of total graduates in 2010 (including 3800 males with rate 41.1%, 5456 females with rate 58.9%), versus 9328 graduates in 2009 with a decrease 72 graduate with 0.8%.

 Total graduates from humanitarian Science group reached 262642 graduates with rate 80.5% of total graduates in 2010 (including 115521 males with rate 44.0%, 147121 females with rate 56.0%), versus 268495 graduates in 2009 with a decrease 5853 graduate with 2.2%.

 Total graduates from governmental Universities reached 316783 graduates with rate 97.1% of total graduates in 2010 (including 143649 males with rate 45.3%, 173134 females with rate 54.7%), versus 326353 graduates in 2009 with a decrease 9570 graduate with 2.9 %.

 Al Azhar University ranked the first, where total graduates reached 39972 graduates with rate 12.6% of total graduates from governmental Universities in 2010 (including 24885 males with rate 62.3%, 15087 females with rate 37.7%), followed by Cairo University with 35632 graduates with rate 11.3% (including 16574 males with rate 46.5%, 19058 females with rate 53.5%), then Ain Shams University with 34574 graduates with rate 10.9% (including 13596 males with rate 39.3%, 20978 females with rate 60.7%), and Port Said ranked the last, where total graduates reached 3824 graduates with rate 1.2%(including 1819 males with rate 47.6%, 2005 females with rate 52.4%).

 Total graduates from governmental Universities reached 316783 graduates with rate 97.1% of total graduates in 2010 (including 143649 males with rate 45.3%, 173134 females with rate 54.7%), versus 326353 graduates in 2009 with a decrease 9570 graduate with 2.9 %.

 Total graduates from private Universities reached 9491 graduates with rate 2.9% of total graduates in 2010 (including 5685 males with rate 59.9%, 3806 females with rate 40.1%), versus 7619 graduates in 2009 with an increase 1872 graduate with 24.6%.

* Misr Technology & Science University ranked the first, where total graduates reached 4011 graduates with rate 42.3%(including 2507 males with rate 62.5 %, 1504 females with rate 37.5%), followed by 6 October University with 2262 graduates with rate 23.8% (including 1517 males with rate 67.0%, 745 females with rate 33.0%), then October Modern Science & Arts University with 1087 graduates with rate 11.5% (including 673 males with rate 61.9%, 414 females with rate 38.1%), and French University Port ranked the last, where total graduates reached 91 graduates with rate 1.0%(including 39 males with rate 42.9%, 52 females with rate 57.1 %).

* Cairo ranked the first, where total graduates reached 73360 graduates with rate 22.5% of total graduates from in 2010 (including 34910 males with rate 47.6%, 38450 females with rate 52.4%), followed by Giza with 39634 graduates with rate 12.1 % (including 19876 males with rate 50.1%, 19758 females with rate 49.9%), then Alexandria with 27199 graduates with rate 8.3% (including 11506 males with rate 42.3%, 15693 females with rate 57.7%), and Red Sea ranked the last, with 204 graduates with rate 0.1%(including 38 males with rate 18.6%, 166 females with rate 81.4%).

* Total expatriate of graduates from Universities (Governmental – Private) reached 5282 graduates with rate 1.6% of total graduates in 2010 (including 4087 males with rate 77.4%, 1195 females with rate 22.6%), versus 4406 graduates in 2009 with an increase 876 graduate with 19.9%.